

A level Business Studies

What board do we do? AQA, OCR, Edexcel

What is Business Studies? As students progress through the course, they are introduced to new ideas and concepts while continuing to use and reinforce previously learned concepts and skills. The course is designed to give students a sound understanding of business concepts and the ability to use knowledge, analytical skills and problem solving techniques in the context of international markets and the United Kingdom. A good knowledge of current affairs is an added plus in students of business studies.

What careers and University courses can Business Studies lead to?

Many students go on to continue their studies in BBA (Bachelor of Business Administration) at the University level, followed by an MBA. Many students also gain a Bachelor's degree in other related fields like Accountancy. A business studies degree is highly valued by employers due to the skills in analysis, problem-solving, numeracy and decision making that it develops. Many graduates have chosen to use their business skills in careers in the City of London such as trading; banking, retail sector, manufacturing and other corporate fields and in industry.
